Town Council.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held on Friday afternoon last, June 20th. Those present included Mr. J. H. Patterson, Mr. J. C. Cottam, Hopkins, Laddie and Bratton. A letter was received from Dr. J. H. Patterson, in which he stated that he had been unsuccessful in his efforts to dispense the necessary to the Canadian Order of Foresters.

A telegram was also read from D. B. Dunlage, Chicago relative to the debtors, advising his brother to visit that city, as he believed he could not be successful in his efforts to obtain the necessary to the debtors by writing to the debtors there.

A letter was received from the Peace River and Alberta Investment Co., recommending the Council to write to Mr. Neel, England, with regard to the debtors.

It was decided to do so, and offer the debtors for 80c. net to the town.

Messrs. A. Lee and R. S. Beattie interviewed the Council with reference to the matters connected with the July 1st celebration.

Messrs. Luckhardt and Willmot were also present and approached the Council with a view to getting a loan made out to the town for two-thirds of the total cost of fencing the National Highway between Bow Island and Burdett.

The Council decided to make the grant payable to the Board of Trade. An application from P. Styken for permission to erect a building on lot 11, block 11, was granted, provided he complied with the by-laws.

An application was received from the Secretary-Treasurer of the School Board, asking for a loan of $10,000 towards accounts and current expenditure.

Two by-laws of $1250 each, covering the above amount, were then passed through their several stages and were finally disposed of.

Mr. MacLennan introduced the name of the town, assuring the hall team in putting up a grand stand in the public park, and also assuring the band towards erecting a portable band stand.

It was decided to grant a sum not

Bow Island WILL Have Gas.

Money Subscribed by Loyal Citizens will enable Drilling to be proceeded with Immediately.

We venture to say that in but a very few towns in Western Canada would one find such a loyal spirit and such a feeling of unity among its residents as has been evidenced in Bow Island during the past week.

It is of course common knowledge that the cost of building a power plant for the past four or five months to raise $40,000 to drill a municipal gas well, but owing to the financial condition in this town so many other western towns found it to be practically an impossibility to sell their debts.

The citizens of Bow Island have risen to the occasion like one man, and recognising the importance of the development of Bow Island is being retarded by the absence of the gas in town, they will come forward spontaneously and subscribed generously to a fund to meet the cost of the work.

The tender put in by the North-West Drilling Co. would make the approximate cost of the undertaking exceeding $10,000 towards the objects mentioned above.

A question was then brought up relative as to what interest the town would give on money advanced for drilling that municipal gas well.

The following motion was then passed: "That this Town Council guarantees ten per cent. interest to all persons advancing money to the town for the purpose of sinking a gas well, and that the same be loaned to the town, the balance of the money to be paid within a reasonable time."

Seeing the futility of attempting to raise the money outside, one or two of our energetic business men got together and arranged to loan the town $15,000, and not with such a ready response from the citizens that they have now practically the sum subscribed. This amount is made up of money loaned from individuals to $5000, and will not be handed over to the town, which will hold it until the debtors are disposed of, when the notes will be redeemed and the citizens will receive back their temporary loan with ten per cent. interest."

It is an old axiom that "Necessity is the mother of invention." Certainly, in this case, a new and interesting method of financing for the above object has been devised.

Chief MacLennan was appointed Inspector and will receive remuneration to the extent of $10 for his services.

After discussing several other matters of minor importance, the Council adjourned.

Borden Celebration

Or the Law will Swat You

Hatpayers both in town and country should make careful examination of all weeds growing upon their property.

Industries are hot after culprits and are determined to find them and as to how to deal with offenders who persist in allowing their land to become weed-infested, injuring not only their own prospects but acting detrimentally to their neighbors.

The noxious weeds law is a good one and the hatpayers should be more indifferent to pull them selves and the law therefore has to be brought into force.

Swat the weeds! Don't wait for the inspector, but get right down and eat them out.

The Sunnyside Literary Society, under whose auspices was held the celebration and picnic at Borden on Thursday of last week, is to be congratulated upon the splendid success of the affair. The weather was propitious and the refreshments served upon the grounds were fully up to the standard set by the residents of Borden (and this is no mean one). The ladies especially acquitted themselves splendidly in this particular department.

The day's events resulted as follows:

100 yards' open—H. A. Watson.
100 yards' (boys under 10)—Gerald Bunting.
30 yards' (boys under 12)—Howard Evans.

50 yards' (daughters under 12)—Edna Ellsworth.
High jump—Mr. Fraser and Ly'e Connor tied for first place.
Broad jump—Mr. Sickles.

The ball game between Bow Island Juniors and Borden resulted in a win for the former, the score being 18-2. The ball game was keenly and very seriously built in the open for dancing, but a heavy storm arriving upon the scene about eight o'clock drove everyone indoors. The programme was naturally suspended, but notwithstanding this fog the crowd enjoyed the situation as far as they possibly could under the circumstances and dancing was carried on until a late hour.

ALTOADRO BOOSTERS.
M. W. Wink and the Domains of Altoadro were in town on Friday last and gave the Review a few details of what the residents of Altoadro intend to do in the future. Mr. Wink casually mentioned a few of the improvements they have effected in the town of Altoadro. One can not come to the conclusion that when the steel is out of the ground the town will be worth watching.

The Drink Question

in the hot days of July and August, when your throat is cracked and your tongue feels like a piece of leather, and you dare not drink the town water for fear of disease germs becomes extremely critical. But it has been

BY SPECIAL MESSENGER

An Errand That Had Unexpected Results.

By WARING MITCHELL

On that certain Tuesday morning when Col. Jones had agreed to start for the city from his country place he said to his daughter Winnie:

"It is possible that I may want those Mexican bonds this afternoon, and here is the key of the safe. If I have to have them sent, send a note by a special messenger."

The colonel was something of a lawyer, speculator and broker, and Miss Winnie was his nine-and-a-half-year-old daughter. She and her brother were at home and were pretty familiar with his business transactions. The bonds spoke of a face name of Col. Jones but the city had not yet returned them to the market and had caused the colonel considerable anxiety.

He had telephoned to his office and telephoned to his daughter that effect, saying that he would send a messenger, in case of emergency, from the regular service to be stopped at the office of Jones next door and said:

"Jones, I want a trusty fellow to run out to my house and bring me back some bonds. Haven't I noticed a young man around here?"

"Yes. He's a nephew of mine. He's out to see me, but I don't know him well enough to return him. He ought to go out to East Park and back in an hour."

The colonel wrote a line to Miss Winnie delineating the bonds and then went out on the street on business. Fifteen minutes later Jones' nephew was making for the Grand Central station, and the colonel expressed to the wayward youth would carry him.

Jones hadn't given the young man's biography, but it may be stated that his name was Vincent Gray and he was twenty-two, and he was in the office of his uncle to learn the lessons ways of Wall Street before setting up in business for himself. His uncle's sudden fortune left him by a deceased aunt. For a young man who expected to come into a fortune of his own, and other animals, young Gray was very trusting of human nature. For instance, while his train was staying at Bow Island, he had stopped and was hanging to a strap thinking of things financial a young man who sicked his pocketbooks without seeing them.

The boy's unbridled youth found there only a canard and the letter to Miss Winnie, but they were sufficient to entice him to the cupboard.

It took about ten minutes to get things into the safe, and then Vincent Gray opened and read the letter, and he saw the golden opportunity he had been seeking. He had a right to infer that his victim had no more money about him. He liked the idea of being a bank robber, and he was sure that the police would be unable to prove the whereabouts of the money he had taken.

When it came to apologies and inviting Gray to his room, he was a little nervous, but he was the white knight in the chess game, and he was not at all as badly off as if the sum were $5.

There was a tremor to have been detected in his voice, and just about Vincent Gray stood at the ticket window and fussed and fumbled and was left. His card was given and he was gone.

He was sure that the letter had also taken wings to realize that he was in trouble. He hadn't even a nickel to his name, and he had to go to a pawnshop, where he put down his watch for $2.

The next train to East Park was two minutes late starting and the same in reaching the Park, so there were in all fifty minutes lost. The young man had to get his coat and hat, and the time of a pickpocket, but he supposed he had lost his property in the West while boarding the car. He had been told to go to the station, and he had to ride him, and he had remembered the address. Therefore he did not worry so much over the loss of the coat, as he was in a hurry to face to face with Winnie Grange and stated his errand and saw her look of surprise and disappointment to realize that it was the usual Albert square service.

"Are you going to Albert square?" asked the side indicator says Albert square."

"Oh, no, missus; piccidelity," was the reply.

"But, sir, you're going to Albert square."

"Yes, sir," replied, "those bonds were delivered to a messenger more than half an hour ago."

"If you were sent for them and was delayed?"

"If you were sent for them, you must have had them in my father's safe, and, but, now, I'm sure I lost it, together with my money. My name is Vincent Gray, and I am in the office of Ezra Jones, the colonel, in East Park, the father. I am afraid that some rascal found the lost letter and thus took advantage of it."

"And you are another rascal trying to do the same thing?" exclaimed Miss Winnie's Aunt Ruth, who was at the time the only old member of the club, jealous of its reputation.

I naturally found this very unusual, and I am afraid to make an equitable division of the bonds, as it was necessary either to divide by a 5-a-side of caring, as you must concede."

"But who was present that order was passed?"

"Perhaps so, and perhaps it is the imposter who is here now, Winnie."

go to the telephone and ask you for the name of the messenger he said. We wouldn't have time. Dick or I would have time to run errand. Young man, sit down here until we find out the truth of this matter."

The girl went to the telephone, and the young man sat down with visions of policemen and prison bars passing before his eyes. He had a seat directly in front of him and stated to him in a cold, cruel way—a way that gave him to understand that she would not be a man's easy escape. After two or four minutes he finally said to the room to say:

"That's always the way. Control the people in the city and the city is crossed or something and it may be a hour or more before they find out the truth. It will be the same."

Her crinkly chine makes this very bright, colorful gown. The wide belted skirt, patterned with a burry design in American Beauty shades of red. The novel note of the costume is to be found in the long, inconspicuous sleeve of the smartly slim. Touches of the same silk are introduced in a panel at the side of the skirt.

HEADACHE CURE.

Common Sense Living and Right Thinking Remedy For Most Headaches.

There are two attitudes of the housewife to a headache. She takes it as an excuse for her daily duties, neglects her house and general care of her family, or she accepts it as an excuse to dismiss and run her house.

She is not an occasional woman who suffers from the headache.

If the cause is traced, do not think

"Another of my headaches" and get your teeth for biting when what pains you. For instance, "Why should I have another?"

And then comes on to cure common sense living and ordinary care of the functions of the body.

In the meantime, first, stop the cause.

If the headache awakes you at half-sleep early morning she may be short of ventilation in her room. Let no fear of draft or constricting garments stop you from sleeping with closed windows. Nor should she think a window raised an hour or two needs fresh air.

Another causes headaches. If the blood is thin and the flow sluggish you are sure to be a martyr to your health. If you are not in the open air, in the open air, and a good blood tonic will soon work a cure. Women of sedentary life, who use their brains overmuch, are especially prone to this type of headache.

Overwork, overworry and fretting are the causes of many headaches. And especially with the nervous, high strung woman who takes too much out of herself, then generally takes the rest out of others. Careless, thoughtless, hasty, hasty, learning to let things slide, more rest and sleep and an acquired philosophy.

Heel and Toe Protectors.

Stockings and socks now have determinately become a fashion. They can be removed from the body of the sock or stocking and similar portions substituted for them when they become too tight to be removed.

Should the heel and toe portions be the same shape and for that reason are interchangeable for both the heel and toe, the opportunity for utilizing or keeping two different kinds of spare portions, one for the heels and the other for the toes of the stockings, is removed. The stockings are knitted together in one piece, which makes them less liable to become mislaid or lost, as would be the case of a number of separate portions.

A Hidden Streak.

Aunt Mary, from her country saying, "There's not one of 'em but what's got a streak of pure cussedness somewhere in de bones," but so long as it's de bones, then he can be made to do no harm to see daylight, we kin only keep dat oner streak from mixin' wi' us, blood, dead we kin!"

Quick Mustard Plaster.

A trained nurse says that if you get the exact proportion of making a mustard plaster, you can have it made by cutting a thick slice of bread, dipping it just for a second in the mustard, it has the advantage of being recurred to plain English mustard. The egg will prevent blistering.

OUR NEW PAPER MONEY.

It Will Be the Safest and Simplest Article.

When we hear that Uncle Sam is now preparing appear our citizens will witness the greatest revolution that has ever been made in the size and quantity of paper money in the United States. Each one of the 2,000,000 notes of that kind now in circulation will be compensated by uniform pieces of currency of a larger size than that now used.

If the comment occasioned by the establishment of a post office, free delivery and every other innovation Uncle Sam has made in the last twelve months should be rolled into it, it would not bring the new size of the popular interest which will be manifested when the people realize that the value of the new paper money is to be changed. That day will sound the doom of the counterfeiter with a value of $1 to a $10, a $10 to a $20, a $20 to a $50, in fact, misrepresents any denomination.

The value of the new bill will be apparent to all. And when Washington's portrait on it will be $1; George Washington's $2; Lincoln's, $5; Grover Cleveland's, $10; Andrew Jackson's, $20; Franklin's, $100; John Marshall's, $500, and so on.

It will be found to cost a dollar bill in a ten dollar bill, as is so frequently done, because within a few months after the system has been in use, the public will have learned that George Washington's portrait stands for $1 and not $10. MOVING PICTURE SHOWS.

They May, Perhaps, in the Near Future Be Given in the Home.

A prediction may safely be made that in a few years the home will be made for moving pictures in the same way that it is made for motion pictures in the theater. When a man decides to build a house to cost, say, $25,000 or more, the architect, the family and their guests can enjoy a select program of latest productions, first run, for the home.

The cost of the equipment will be a dollar bill in a ten dollar bill, as is so frequently done, because within a few months after the system has been in use, the public will have learned that George Washington's portrait stands for $1 and not $10. THE HOT WATER BAG.

How to Mend Holes In This Very Useful Article.

It is best to mend holes in a rubber hot water bag. When partly full rest it on something and cover the top down until the water rises in the neck then screw on the top. This drives out the air and keeps the water hot longer. If hot water bag will not heat longer if at first it is well greased inside with olive oil or vaseline.

To mend a rubber hot water inflate it with air and then lay it flat to dry. Now take a rubber band, moist it with a hand and apply while plastic may be converted, this will have a small piece of thin sheet rubber heat this also and paste over the hole. If this does not hold well will also mend it neatly. There is also a rivet which is used for mending punctures. It has a flat head on one side, a sharp point on the other and a wire to secure a bar on the opposite side.

To mend rubber goods which are to be washed, heat them over a fire in a caldron. Apply one piece and then when the handles place a second and then a third layer, allowing each layer to penetrate the previous one. This makes a thin patch which is durable.

In the absence of a hot water bottle, lay a common funnel bag, made in a convenient size, with a drawingstring at the top, over a piece of cloth, then lay a piece of thin sheet rubber over the cloth, and a sharp point of a hot iron over the cloth.

A hot water bottle will be a good substitute. Fill with hot sand or salt. It is safer than a cheap rubber hot water bottle. If the hot water bottle is to be used, lay a piece of cloth over the mouth of the bottle, then lay a piece of cloth over the mouth of the hot water bottle and heat it.

A hot plate wrapped in paper and a wet towel will make a heat unit if you are not able to buy one. Old magazines heated in the oven make a good substitute for a hot water bottle. They hold the heat well and can be used under the back, where a hot water bottle would not be well.

STREET SUITS.

Whims and Freshness Reserved For Dress.

There seems to be no unwritten law in dressmaking that, no matter what eccentric or fresh look it may be the fashion, it shall be exhibited in the street.

For we can afford the time a little time to work. Next summer when I am putting on a second and third hand suit, I am going to lay under clover, clover, and rye on every square foot I can get planted.

Another new industry will soon come into existence in all the large cities of the country.

Children's birthday, garden parties, weddings and other functions which are to be held in the home will be the new industry.

It will be the most acceptable wedding present in days to come from friends in the home.

There were very few that took advantage of the excursion to Lethbridge on Thursday. When the train reached Bow Island it was practically empty, and the few that boarded here did not increase it materially. The wet weather and consequently the fear that the grounds would be too wet to be dry condition prevented many from journeying westwards.

A grand celebration and picnic will be held in the Elboway Public school district, 17-6-9, on July 4th. A big programme has been arranged and consists of baseball games, horse bucking, bareback wrestling on horseback, field sports, catching greasy pig, tug-of-war, etc. It is safe to say that a very enjoyable day will be spent by those who attend.

July 1st celebration will be taken advantage of by the Hospital Ladies' Aid to dispose of a number of tags in aid of the hospital. Everyone should help this cause along and make it a "tag day" to be remembered for its financial results.

The members of Bow Island Lodge No. 64 A.F. & A.M. will attend divine service at the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening next, July 29th. Visiting brethren are heartily invited to attend.

W. C. Jones announces that he will sell by auction at his farm on Saturday, July 5th, all his live stock, agricultural implements, household furniture, etc. D. M. Garrison is the auctioneer and A. F. Werts will act as clerk.

A farmers' picnic and institute meeting will be held at the fair grounds, Winnifred, under the auspices of the Winnifred Agricultural Society, on Friday, July 11th. Hon. Duncan Marshall, W. H. Fairfield and other speakers will address the meeting.

Heavy rains visited this town and district on Monday and Tuesday of this week. The downpour was steady and has given the country a thorough soaking. A bumper crop is practically assured.

There has been received at the Review office, a publication which should prove of considerable interest to the prospective settler has recently been prepared in, and is now being issued from the Railways Lands Branch of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa. This interesting publication which is known as the Peace River or Northern Alberta Homestead Map graphically illustrates by a comparatively simple system of coloring the land situation in that country, including, as it does, complete information with respect to the disposal of lands, location of timber berths and forest reserves, nature of the soil, etc. Copies may be obtained free of charge upon application to F. respectively. In 1911 the returns were 95 cents and $1.18 per bushel respectively for oats and $1.31 and $1.08 for barley. The grains were fed crushed and mixed and along with sunflower meal, beet pulp, sludge, hay, roots etc., and a certain amount of bran and linseed meal.

For the information of those who feel the necessity of extending their farming operations beyond the mere growing of grain, there has been issued by the Experimental Farm a bulletin containing a summary of tests in steer feeding at Brandon from 1892 to 1912. In these tests the cattle were fed on such foods as are at the disposal of Manitoba farmers, including straw, grass hay, western rye grass, bromegrass, oat straw, frozen wheat, barley, oats etc. In recent years lots of divers were fed in the open air, with a view to determine the best way to handle them.

It is the opinion of those that from whatever standpoint a Prairie Farmer may desire light upon the subject he will be helped to find it in the bulletin information that will be helpful to him.

As far as other conclusions reached by these experiments it is clearly brought out in this bulletin that steer feeding may be profitably carried on in Manitoba; that good results can be obtained with no other food than straw, and that the best way to support the ration that between two and three years appears to be the best age at which to fatten cattle that stock may be fatter and more profitable to market in Manitoba. It is believed from the result that cattle can be marketed more profitably through steers than through the elevator and that the man who raises a good steer and sells him unfinished really misses the best part of the profit.

Breath of a Smell

A professor in one of our famous Universities has suggested a chair of smiling and a course in good-fellowship.

We have courses in decorum and courtesy in commerce and courses in the art of conversation. There is reason there is against inaugurating a course in optimism. Why should not a course in optimism? Who should not be interested in optimism? Who should not be interested in the brightening of life in a scientific way?

Too much of the present-day learning is included in the curriculum which is a sort of banner of optimism, has too long been the usual standard of education.

As a rule, the majority of persons are not interested in the brightening of life.

The smile of the optimist is the smile of the brightener, which is true.

They seem to radiate happiness and cheerfulness, and they are pleasant to be with.

But maybe they light the path with a candle, and the world is dark.

There must be a way in which they can be brushed up with light and the world will be brightened.

It has Many Qualities—The man who possesses a bottle of Dr. Thomas's Sandol has a very busy day, but he has a smile, and the smile is the standard of the optimist.

There surely is a place for the Sandol in the world.

It is a great tonic.

Rural Municipality of Bow Island No. 94.

POUND BY-LAW!

The Rural Municipality of Bow Island, No. 94, in response to petitions from many farmers, have drafted a Pound By-Law, a copy of which appears in this issue, and have done all in their power to protect the farmers from the loss and damage occasioned by the trespassing of animals, which in the past they have had to suffer in silence. It is now up to and those who are wise will at once erect lawful fences in order to take advantage of this By-Law and be in a position to claim compensation. We are able to help you out in this for we stock just the very kind of wire which will meet all the requirements of this By-Law and yet will enable you to fence your farm at a very small cost. You cannot buy better or stronger wire than this, and the price we are charging is away below that you will pay elsewhere.

The Law helps those who help themselves and we can help you to help yourself.

Don't Forget the Big Public Meeting!

There's an object and a Reason.

THE OBJECT of every Farmer who transacts his business in Bow Island is to secure a hundred cents of value for every dollar which he expends for Groceries, Hardware, Furnishings, etc., and that is

THE REASON you will always find our store resembling a Public Meeting. Past experience always guides the intelligent man in his actions, and having proved for himself in the past that he can rely upon obtaining better value for his money at our store than at any other establishment he comes again.
